

Hughes is Beat is Claim of Favorite Sons' Camps Today

Sen. Harding Strikes "Americanism as
Keynote and Makes Strong appeal
For Party Unity in Opening Speech

PLATFORM DESIGNED TO PLEASE COLONEL

Chicago, June 6.—(By United Press)—As the "favorite sons" delegates slouched their way through the rain to the Coliseum, one sentiment prevailed, "one for all and everyone for himself." "We have Hughes licked" was the word from every camp. This has been accomplished by standing together. What will happen if their prediction holds good and the justice is finally eliminated is another story to the favorite sons. All have united in defeating Hughes with every argument. The spirit of brotherhood is beautiful.

Harding Strikes Keynote

"Americanism" was the keynote and party unity the appeal of Senator Warren G. Harding's speech made in opening the Republican convention today. The vast majority of the people, Harding said, expect to be sponsors "to write anew the sacred covenants of Republicanism and reconsecrate the party to the nation's service." "We did not do very well in making for harmony the last time we met, the temporary chairman said in opening his address. We did not do over fundamental principles. We did not disagree over a national policy. We split over methods of party procedure and preferred personality."

After extending the olive branch to the Progressives in convention at the auditorium Harding outlined the foundation upon which the party planned to reconstruct its power. At the same time the flayed the Wilson administration concluding with "everything is abnormal except the depleted condition of the federal treasury which is characterized by Democratic control." Bleeding Europe, he said, is a warning for prudence, patriotic and ample national defense.

The convention was called to order at 11:20 by Chairman Hilles. Prayer was offered by Rev. John Stone, of Chicago at 11:33. Divine aid was asked for peace. Everybody then sat quiet while the photographer did his work. Secretary James B. Reynolds in a quaky voice filled with stage fright next read the official call for the convention. He was greeted with good natured applause though the reading was not audible to more than fifty people. The convention then buzzed away.

The attention given to Reynolds was flagrant when Murray Crane finally came to the rescue, caught Hilles' attention and motion was made to pound for order. Harding obeyed and got a modicum of order. Reynolds got a good applause as he finished.

Chairman Hilles next presented Senator Warren G. Harding next chairman taking a single sentence for this function. Harding got a good burst of applause and there being no other nomination for the keynote speaker, he was named by acclamation. Hilles appointed a committee to escort the Ohioan to the platform. The latter two had been waiting patiently for the job in the aisle. Crane's name was given a howl of applause and Borah's almost as much. Crane and McKinley took over the job as Borah was not present. Crane and McKinley then alone escorted Harding to the platform. The first real spontaneous burst of applause came from the hall when Harding's familiar form was seen. He began reading his speech at exactly 11:17. The first sustained applause came when he made a plea for a navy that "would fear none in the world."

Harding's thrust at the Democrats for their "direct ability from Baltimore to Vera Cruz" brought a huge roar of laughter and applause. He was warming up his audience at this time and as his sharp shafts rushed home he was interrupted time and again by laughter and applause.

The Ohio delegates were right on the job in leading the applause. A prolonged burst of cheering and applause shook the roof when the senator, his face suffused with emotion and his voice ringing with enthusiasm, quoted the opening lines of "Americanism."

CIRCUS ATTRACTS HUGE CROWD FROM ALL OVER COUNTRY

Two Performances Of Hagen-
back-Wallace Shows Will Take Place Today

Grounds in Good Condition—Reports
That There will be Only one Performance are False.

In spite of the rains this morning, every train arriving in town today was filled with people from all parts of the county bound for the Carl Hagenbeck and Wallace show grounds which are situated on Leavy avenue above the electric light plant. The streets were crowded with strangers this morning waiting to witness the large street parade which was scheduled to start at ten o'clock but which was not held on account of the rains.

The show grounds are in fair condition considering the amount of rains but the interior of the tents will be dry and the rains will in no manner interfere with the performances. The tents were put up before the rains during the morning so that the grounds are in excellent condition.

It was reported that there would be no performance this evening but the press agent of the circus has corrected this rumor and wishes to announce the evening performance will take place, starting at eight o'clock. It was at first thought that after the first performance, the grounds would be too muddy to permit the second performance being held, but upon examination of the grounds, it was learned they would be in fine condition.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB

Younger Social Set Holds
Pleasant Affair.

The younger social set of Clearfield was delightfully entertained last evening at the Country Club by several members of the Club at an informal dance. A crowd of about thirty was present, being taken to the club house in automobiles furnished by the members, about eight o'clock.

About eight-thirty the Guelich orchestra struck up the first one-step and opened the festivities of the evening. The orchestra furnished excellent music during the entire evening, their repertoire consisting of all the latest one-steps and fox trots. Dancing and cards were the chief amusements of the evening.

The crowd was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Staver. Miss Helen Cloe, of Hancock, Michigan, a guest of Miss Catharine Dimeling was present.

Address before introducing Raymond Robbins as temporary chairman. The photographer interrupted him to snap the convention. Before Robbins began, Secretary Davis read the roll of the convention and other routine preliminaries were gotten out of the way.

At 12:48 Murdock announced the national committee's choice of temporary officers, with Raymond Robbins, as temporary chairman and the electing was approved on motion of delegate O. H. Higby, of Minnesota. Governor Johnson, of California and Oscar Straus, of New York and John M. Parker, of Louisiana, escorted Robbins to the chair. A demonstration that lasted one minute greeted Robbins' arrival on the platform. One lone delegate called "Teddy" and started a demonstration that was still going eight minutes later.

Following a telephone conversation with Colonel Roosevelt, George Perkins made the following statement prior to the opening of the convention. "I am very well satisfied with the situation as it stands. I believe that a fine atmosphere exists and that a proper spirit has been created for best results in both conventions." Later Governor Johnson of California, declared that he believed whatever Colonel Roosevelt desired would be done. Hilles appointed a committee to

INTEREST OF MILITARY CRITICS ON CAZZAR'S ARMY

Drive Against Austrians Resulted in
Capture of 30,000 Prisoners

London, June 6.—(By United Press)—The interest of military critics of the czar's army to the news of the capture of 30,000 prisoners has already resulted in the capture of thirty thousand prisoners with cannons and small arms. The czar has more than 1,000,000 men set at the bay from Tripoli to Tunis in the Bessarabian region, or thereabouts. The Austrians strength is now at half their number.

First Candidates In Great Auto Contest Announced Today

Many Ladies and Gentlemen Named
From All Sections of The County.
Still Time to Enter The Race

EARLY SHOTS FIRED IN THE BIG CONTEST

The Progress today takes pleasure in publishing the first list of nominations in the great automobile contest recently announced by this paper. It is indeed very gratifying to be able to present such a large and representative list of so many of the well known and popular residents of the community and the many nominations as well as the character and standing of those named, very strongly reflect the whole hearted endorsement of the generous offer and the very hearty reception that has been tendered it in every section of the county.

The names thus far received prove conclusively the truth of our assertions of a few days ago that the list of candidates in this high class enterprise would be made up from the very best citizens of the entire community. The very large majority of those whose names appear in the list of nominees, as published today, have been nominated by two or more persons, as the number of votes recorded to the respective nominees will show, thus giving ample assurance that there are plenty of popular ladies or gentlemen in the community who have many friends interested in their behalf and who are anxious and willing to see them win these many excellent and valuable awards as well as the honor and distinction that will go with such a victory.

Many of the candidates who are named in the list below have sent in their own nominations having fully realized the splendid opportunity that is open to them and wishing to avail themselves of the advantage of an early start. A still larger number, perhaps, of those who have been named thus far have been nominated by their friends and many of the nominees may not, until the printed list of today appears be aware of the honor that has been bestowed upon them by their friends nor of the extraordinary chance of winning a fine touring car or other prize that has been opened to them through their nomination.

Read the Names Carefully

Every reader of this paper should go through the following list of names very carefully to see if their favorites or their own name is entered on the roll of honor. If you or a friend in whom you are interested is named then begin at once to save and send in the five-vote coupons from the daily issues of the Progress and have your friends do likewise. If you are not named in the list, and do not expect to enter the contest yourself, and if the lady or gentleman of your choice is not found in the list then clip the 1,000 vote nomination blank from this paper and send it in at once to the Contest Manager at the Progress office. There is still time to send in new nominations and more names will be added to the list daily as they are received.

It is, of course, to be understood that not all of those whose names appear in the list of nominations will be able to take an active part in the contest. For various reasons some of those who have been nominated by their friends will not have the opportunity of actually entering the competition for the awards, but a goodly number of those named, and who have thus had the chance opened to them, will lose no time in planning their campaigns and making an active start in the vote and subscription getting. Those who have been named and who are utterly unable to avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity will confer a great favor on this office by advising us of same in order that the list of candidates which will be printed daily will, so far as possible, represent only the active candidates or those who expect to become active.

Supplies Are Ready.

All interested candidates, whether they have already been nominated or not should call at the Progress office as soon as possible and secure a supply of the blanks and other printed matter that has been provided for the contestants and which will be supplied free upon request. The contest department is at all times glad to give any information regarding the contest or the fine prizes that are offered and personal calls, or inquiries by telephone or mail are invited.

The following is the list of nominations that have been received so far. These names appear just as they were received at this office and if there are any errors in the spelling or classification of any of the names the Progress will appreciate the correction of same.

The votes published after the names represent the nomination votes only. Votes from coupons and subscriptions will be published tomorrow and daily thereafter during the contest.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of leading their system with drugs. What's an inside bath? you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach liver kidneys and the dirty food of intestines of the previous day's waste sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can't get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is justly more important to bathe in the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

AGED WARRIOR OFFERS BIG BOUNTY FOR SUBSTITUTE

New York, June 7.—Himself too old to join the colors, and firm in the belief that his beloved country is threatened with real danger, an aged but wealthy fruit grower of Easton, Pa., who served as a private of Marines under Farragut during the Civil War, is today tottering along the streets of New York in quest of a substitute to whom he is willing to pay a large bounty to take his place in the ranks of the present day Marine Corps.

The white haired old warrior, who refused to divulge his name, stated it is his belief that every patriotic man of means, too old to serve himself, should find a substitute.

"I'll get a man to serve in my place if I have to pay him a thousand dollars," he told Captain Frank E. Evans, in charge of the local Marine Corps recruiting station. "Uncle Sam needs able-bodied men these days—not to march in preparedness parades solely. I thing every patriotic citizen should aid in getting men to enlist. I served actively in the long ago, but now I must do the next best thing and find a man to join the ranks in my stead."

The Easton veteran refused the aid of regular marine corps recruiters in his quest for a substitute, and expressed the desire to "go it alone on his own account."

DEDICATION OF GREAT HIGHWAY

Portland, Ore., June 7.—The Columbia River highway, which has been named by Gen. Goethals an "engineering feat of splendid proportions," was formally dedicated and given to the people today. The dedication was a leading feature of the opening day's program of Portland's annual Rose Carnival. The dedication ceremonies took place at Multnomah Falls and were attended by the Queen of the carnival and her retinue, together with a large number of State and city officials and other invited guests.

The new highway is one of the most wonderful automobile roads in the world. The completion of the project represents an expenditure of $2,000,000. The road extends from the Pacific Ocean to Pendleton, about forty-seven miles east from Portland. From Portland to the west it follows the windings of the hills to Astoria, on the Pacific Ocean.

CATHOLIC HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

Milwaukee, Wis., June 7.—A large and representative attendance marked the opening here today of the second annual conference of the Catholic Hospital Association. This morning the visiting physicians, surgeons, and nurses attended mass at the Gesù Church, at which Archbishop Messmer was the celebrant. Later in the forenoon the delegates were welcomed by President Nottan of Marquette University. The regular business session was opened this afternoon with a paper by Dr. C. H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., on "The Nature, Necessity and Value of Team Work in a Hospital." The conference will continue until Friday.

On His Way to The Supreme Court

Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes

This photograph of Charles E. Hughes, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, was taken on the other day. It is the most recent picture of him and one of the very few snapshots he has permitted. The photograph shows him on a morning walk on his way to the Supreme Court in the capital at Washington. The justice walks one or two miles each morning before beginning his study.

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of types into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

REFORMED PRESBYTERIANS MEET

C. French, of Denver. Delegates were present from as far east as Nova Scotia and as far west as California. The sessions will continue one week and will be devoted to the consideration of a large amount of business relating to the affairs of the church.

NORTH CAROLINA EPWORTH LEAGUE

New Bern, N. C., June 7.—Arriving today this morning brought scores of delegates and visitors from all over the State for the ninth annual conference of the North Carolina Epworth League. Beginning with a welcome demonstration through the proceedings of the convention will continue until Sunday. The large attendance and attractive program combine to give promise of one of the most successful meetings in the history of the State organization.

POULTRY RAISING A COLLEGE COURSE

Columbia, Mo., June 7.—The man who desires to equip himself for a poultry business, how to raise chickens, will have an opportunity at the University of Missouri, in raising poultry, law and continuing until Aug. 1, for the first time during the summer session here there is being offered a complete course in poultry raising. All the details of practical poultry raising necessary for success in the management of a poultry farm, or a farm poultry flock are included.

Advertise in The Progress.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By BREEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self-satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self-satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advance.

Hughes is Beat is Claim of Favorite Sons' Camps Today

Sen. Harding Strikes "Americanism as
Keynote and Makes Strong appeal
For Party Unity in Opening Speech

PLATFORM DESIGNED TO PLEASE COLONEL

Chicago, June 6.—(By United Press)—As the "favorite sons" delegates slouched their way through the rain to the Coliseum, one sentiment prevailed, "one for all and everyone for himself." "We have Hughes licked" was the word from every camp. This has been accomplished by standing together. What will happen if their prediction holds good and the justice is finally eliminated is another story to the favorite sons. All have united in defeating Hughes with every argument. The spirit of brotherhood is beautiful.

Harding Strikes Keynote

"Americanism" was the keynote and party unity the appeal of Senator Warren G. Harding's speech made in opening the Republican convention today. The vast majority of the people, Harding said, expect to be sponsors "to write anew the sacred covenants of Republicanism and reconsecrate the party to the nation's service." "We did not do very well in making for harmony the last time we met, the temporary chairman said in opening his address. We did not do over fundamental principles. We did not disagree over a national policy. We split over methods of party procedure and preferred personality."

After extending the olive branch to the Progressives in convention at the auditorium Harding outlined the foundation upon which the party planned to reconstruct its power. At the same time the flayed the Wilson administration concluding with "everything is abnormal except the depleted condition of the federal treasury which is characterized by Democratic control." Bleeding Europe, he said, is a warning for prudence, patriotic and ample national defense.

The convention was called to order at 11:20 by Chairman Hilles. Prayer was offered by Rev. John Stone, of Chicago at 11:33. Divine aid was asked for peace. Everybody then sat quiet while the photographer did his work. Secretary James B. Reynolds in a quaky voice filled with stage fright next read the official call for the convention. He was greeted with good natured applause though the reading was not audible to more than fifty people. The convention then buzzed away.

The attention given to Reynolds was flagrant when Murray Crane finally came to the rescue, caught Hilles' attention and motion was made to pound for order. Harding obeyed and got a modicum of order. Reynolds got a good applause as he finished.

Chairman Hilles next presented Senator Warren G. Harding next chairman taking a single sentence for this function. Harding got a good burst of applause and there being no other nomination for the keynote speaker, he was named by acclamation. Hilles appointed a committee to escort the Ohioan to the platform. The latter two had been waiting patiently for the job in the aisle. Crane's name was given a howl of applause and Borah's almost as much. Crane and McKinley took over the job as Borah was not present. Crane and McKinley then alone escorted Harding to the platform. The first real spontaneous burst of applause came from the hall when Harding's familiar form was seen. He began reading his speech at exactly 11:17. The first sustained applause came when he made a plea for a navy that "would fear none in the world."

Harding's thrust at the Democrats for their "direct ability from Baltimore to Vera Cruz" brought a huge roar of laughter and applause. He was warming up his audience at this time and as his sharp shafts rushed home he was interrupted time and again by laughter and applause.

The Ohio delegates were right on the job in leading the applause. A prolonged burst of cheering and applause shook the roof when the senator, his face suffused with emotion and his voice ringing with enthusiasm, quoted the opening lines of "Americanism."

He finished his speech at 1:10 p. m.

"This is the coldest convention—in side and outside—I have ever known" asserted Chauncey M. DePuy at the conclusion of Harding's speech, as he sat shivering with the New York delegates. "I have the convention habit having been in attendance since 1850, but there was never one quite like this." "It is a fine tribute to Senator Harding that his admirable speech, so admirably constructed and admirably delivered served materially to make up for the lack of a heating system. I have never seen a temporary chairman make such a brilliant speech."

Convention at a Glance

The Republican convention met at eleven a. m. with Warren G. Harding of Ohio, temporary chairman. The keynote speech was delivered by Mr. Hilles. The resolutions committee began hearings on the platform. Senator William Borah announced his withdrawal from the presidential race. The allies claim three times the number of votes that Hughes has. Hitchcock claims for Hughes more than the total number of votes which the "Favorite Sons" have. Informal get-together negotiations between the Republican and Progressive leaders are still pending.

Platform to Please Roosevelt

Universal military training, a flat declaration for it, will probably be embodied in the Republican platform unless the majority of the committee turns down the recommendations of Senators Borah and Lodge. Conferences held to discuss these proposed planks today found a large sentiment in favor of it. The opposition expressed came from delegates representing the "favorite sons." Protection of American lives abroad, and high protective tariff are the other leading planks were discussed.

The platform will be built about the word "Americanism" and designed to catch the approval of Roosevelt. Drafts have already been prepared though theoretically this can only be done after a public hearing.

Woman suffrage, labor reform, and "every preparation" and "Americanism" plank endorsed by the Committee during the last four years will be included in the Progressive platform to be adopted probably today. These include tariff regulation by commission or otherwise, more liberal changes in the navy with navy as a preparedness feature and a large merchant marine. Predictions are that efforts to undertake a "dry" plank would meet with complete failure.

Three Women Delegates

Three women are sitting as delegates in the Republican convention today and they are "stand patters". Mrs. Olive Cole, of Los Angeles, "Dean" of the Women's delegation, is 83 years old and takes from former Senator Chauncey M. DePew, the honor of being the oldest delegate in the convention. Mrs. Anna Crens, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Frank Lusk of Missoula, Montana, are the other women delegates to the Republican convention. With Mrs. Cole they are orthodox Republicans differing radically from the 33 women reformers and socialist workers of the Progressive convention.

Progressive Convention

Progressive convention at a glance. Met at noon. Temporary chairman Raymond Robbins of Chicago, makes the keynote speech. Committees are assigned. Convention adjourns until Thursday.

Chicago, June 7.—When the Progressive convention was called to order in the auditorium at 12:27 p. m. there was a roaring din of cheers for Chairman Murdock interspersed with cries from all parts of the hall for "Teddy." Bishop William McDonald led an invocation. George W. Perkins was on the platform with Murdock instead of in his seat in the New York Delegation. Perkins seemed confident of holding the premature boom in check.

The convention sang "America" after the invocation.

Chairman Murdock expressed the hope that the crowd would be on its good behavior as he opened the brief

CIRCUS ATTRACTS HUGE CROWD FROM ALL OVER COUNTRY

Two Performances Of Hagen-
back-Wallace Shows Will Take Place Today

Grounds in Good Condition—Reports
That There will be Only one Performance are False.

In spite of the rains this morning, every train arriving in town today was filled with people from all parts of the county bound for the Carl Hagenbeck and Wallace show grounds which are situated on Leavy avenue above the electric light plant. The streets were crowded with strangers this morning waiting to witness the large street parade which was scheduled to start at ten o'clock but which was not held on account of the rains.

The show grounds are in fair condition considering the amount of rains but the interior of the tents will be dry and the rains will in no manner interfere with the performances. The tents were put up before the rains during the morning so that the grounds are in excellent condition.

It was reported that there would be no performance this evening but the press agent of the circus has corrected this rumor and wishes to announce the evening performance will take place, starting at eight o'clock. It was at first thought that after the first performance, the grounds would be too muddy to permit the second performance being held, but upon examination of the grounds, it was learned they would be in fine condition.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB

Younger Social Set Holds
Pleasant Affair.

The younger social set of Clearfield was delightfully entertained last evening at the Country Club by several members of the Club at an informal dance. A crowd of about thirty was present, being taken to the club house in automobiles furnished by the members, about eight o'clock.

About eight-thirty the Guelich orchestra struck up the first one-step and opened the festivities of the evening. The orchestra furnished excellent music during the entire evening, their repertoire consisting of all the latest one-steps and fox trots. Dancing and cards were the chief amusements of the evening.

The crowd was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Staver. Miss Helen Cloe, of Hancock, Michigan, a guest of Miss Catharine Dimeling was present.

Address before introducing Raymond Robbins as temporary chairman. The photographer interrupted him to snap the convention. Before Robbins began, Secretary Davis read the roll of the convention and other routine preliminaries were gotten out of the way.

At 12:48 Murdock announced the national committee's choice of temporary officers, with Raymond Robbins, as temporary chairman and the electing was approved on motion of delegate O. H. Higby, of Minnesota. Governor Johnson, of California and Oscar Straus, of New York and John M. Parker, of Louisiana, escorted Robbins to the chair. A demonstration that lasted one minute greeted Robbins' arrival on the platform. One lone delegate called "Teddy" and started a demonstration that was still going eight minutes later.

Following a telephone conversation with Colonel Roosevelt, George Perkins made the following statement prior to the opening of the convention. "I am very well satisfied with the situation as it stands. I believe that a fine atmosphere exists and that a proper spirit has been created for best results in both conventions." Later Governor Johnson of California, declared that he believed whatever Colonel Roosevelt desired would be done. Hilles appointed a committee to

INTEREST OF MILITARY CRITICS ON CAZAR'S ARMY

Drive Against Austrians Resulted in
Capture of 30,000 Prisoners

London, June 6.—(By United Press)—The interest of military critics of Europe is now centered in the claims of the czar's army to official statements from Petrograd that drive has already resulted in the capture of thirty thousand prisoners with cannons and small arms. The czar has more than 1,000,000 men set along the line from Tiflis to Tauris in the Bessarabian region, or to the east. The Austrians strength is estimated at half their number.

First Candidates In Great Auto Contest Announced Today

Many Ladies and Gentlemen Named
From All Sections of The County.
Still Time to Enter The Race

EARLY SHOTS FIRED IN THE BIG CONTEST

The Progress today takes pleasure in publishing the first list of nominations in the great automobile contest recently announced by this paper. It is indeed very gratifying to be able to present such a large and representative list of so many of the well known and popular residents of the community and the many nominations as well as the character and standing of those named, very strongly reflect the whole hearted endorsement of the generous offer and the very hearty reception that has been tendered it in every section of the county.

The names thus far received prove conclusively the truth of our assertions of a few days ago that the list of candidates in this high class enterprise would be made up from the very best citizens of the entire community. The very large majority of those whose names appear in the list of nominees, as published today, have been nominated by two or more persons, as the number of votes recorded to the respective nominees will show, thus giving ample assurance that there are plenty of popular ladies or gentlemen in the community who have many friends interested in their behalf and who are anxious and willing to see them win these many excellent and valuable awards as well as the honor and distinction that will go with such a victory.

Many of the candidates who are named in the list below have sent in their own nominations having fully realized the splendid opportunity that is open to them and wishing to avail themselves of the advantage of an early start. A still larger number, perhaps, of those who have been named thus far have been nominated by their friends and many of the nominees may not, until the printed list of today appears be aware of the honor that has been bestowed upon them by their friends nor of the extraordinary chance of winning a fine touring car or other prize that has been opened to them through their nomination.

Read the Names Carefully

Every reader of this paper should go through the following list of names very carefully to see if their favorites or their own name is entered on the roll of honor. If you or a friend in whom you are interested is named then begin at once to save and send in the five-vote coupons from the daily issues of the Progress and have your friends do likewise. If you are not named in the list, and do not expect to enter the contest yourself, and if the lady or gentleman of your choice is not found in the list then clip the 1,000 vote nomination blank from this paper and send it in at once to the Contest Manager at the Progress office. There is still time to send in new nominations and more names will be added to the list daily as they are received.

It is, of course, to be understood that not all of those whose names appear in the list of nominations will be able to take an active part in the contest. For various reasons some of those who have been nominated by their friends will not have the opportunity of actually entering the competition for the awards, but a goodly number of those named, and who have thus had the chance opened to them, will lose no time in planning their campaigns and making an active start in the vote and subscription getting. Those who have been named and who are utterly unable to avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity will confer a great favor on this office by advising us of same in order that the list of candidates which will be printed daily will, so far as possible, represent only the active candidates or those who expect to become active.

Supplies Are Ready.

All interested candidates, whether they have already been nominated or not should call at the Progress office as soon as possible and secure a supply of the blanks and other printed matter that has been provided for the contestants and which will be supplied free upon request. The contest department is at all times glad to give any information regarding the contest or the fine prizes that are offered and personal calls, or inquiries by telephone or mail are invited.

The following is the list of nominations that have been received so far. These names appear just as they were received at this office and if there are any errors in the spelling or classification of any of the names the Progress will appreciate the correction of same.

The votes published after the names represent the nomination votes only. Votes from coupons and subscriptions will be published tomorrow and daily thereafter during the contest.
